The Jack-In-The-Box broke into a peal of cruel laughter. He bobbed in and around Mr. B.E.R. making the little bear feel dizzy and just a little bit wobbly. "What is Christmas? What is Christmas? Hey did you hear that everybody? Tubby here wants to know what Christmas is!"

Now Mr. B.E.R. considered himself to be a pretty easy going bear, still, he never did like Jack, especially when the mean clown cackled cruel insults. The smile on Jack's clown face was painted and hard and it never did seem like a real smile.
